

On The Farm Magazine Privacy Policy

Effective Date: June 2026

Privacy Statement

On The Farm Magazine is committed to protecting the privacy of our readers, contributors, advertisers, and website visitors. We collect and use personal information responsibly and in accordance with applicable Canadian privacy laws.

Information We Collect

We may collect personal information voluntarily provided through our website, including names, email addresses, phone numbers, contact form submissions, newsletter subscriptions, and other information provided when communicating with us.

How We Use Information

Information collected may be used to respond to inquiries, provide information about publications, events, programs, and services, manage contributor and advertising relationships, improve our website, and communicate with subscribers who have requested updates.

Cookies and Analytics

On The Farm Magazine uses cookies and analytics tools to better understand how visitors use our website and to improve content, performance, and user experience.

We use Google Analytics through Google Site Kit to collect non-personally identifiable information such as pages visited, time spent on the website, device and browser information, general geographic location, and referral sources. This information is used for website analysis and improvement purposes only.

Visitors may disable cookies through their browser settings; however, some website functionality may be affected.

Third-Party Services

Our website may contain links to external websites or embedded content, including videos, maps, and social media content. These services may collect information in accordance with their own privacy policies.

Information Security

Reasonable measures are taken to protect personal information from unauthorized access, use, disclosure, or loss. However, no method of electronic transmission or storage can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

Access and Correction Requests

You may contact us at any time to request access to, correction of, or removal of personal information that you have provided through our website, subject to any legal obligations that may require us to retain certain records.
